Global Tour Operators with independent tour guides scattered all over the world require an efficient and cost effective method of making funds available for tour expenses without exposing themselves to fraud or abuse.

Traditional methods of managing tour expenses such as advancing funds to tour guides via wire transfers and bank checks are expensive, inconvenient and time consuming. International transactions often require the recipients to have US affiliated bank accounts and can take several weeks for the funds to become available.

Success in building your business in these challenging economic times necessitates a convenient and flexible method of advancing tour expenses and recovering and reallocating unused fund advances. It is also critical for the payment system to reduce the direct costs of issuing payments and the overhead costs associated with tracking expenditures and recovering unspent advances.

With the Convenient Corporate World Visa® Prepaid Card Payment System your company will save thousands (maybe hundreds of thousands) of dollars by automating and simplifying the tour expense management process and at the same time providing increased convenience and flexibility for your tour guides.
